Chief James Exonerated

Investigation On Tuesday Night Shows He Was Not Guilty of Any Charges Preferred Against Him.

The investigation into charges preferred by the trainmen who have been available, but as there were no cells here, he had no alternative but to allow them to stay at the city jail until the trial was adjourned.

The minutes of the business men's association, where an investigation into the charges was requested, was presented to the railway men, addressed to the gathering stating that he was acting on behalf of about fifty men.

After a brief conference with the railway men, who were present it was decided to accept the explanations as given, and Mr. Knox hoped there would be no cause for difference in the future, as no malice would be harbored on either side.

This concluded the investigation, and no doubt the committee will bring in a report at the next meeting of the council entirely exonerating the chief from any blame in the matter in question.

Sent Up for Trial

A Stewart Watt Is Committed for Trial on Theft Charge in Spite of Advice of Representative From Attorney-General's Department.

A case of widespread interest took form, was to obtain his collection place at the police court this week charges and a balance of about $46.00 and Shantz, when A. Stewart Watt time by the company, and the halen-was accused of fraudulently receiving the sum of $16.00 from a customer of the Wetaskiwin Undertaking Co. Ltd. at Leduc, and counterfeiting money raised up by Mr. Watt and his wife, Elmer Campbell sworn out by Lie. Leon of the Law dertaking Co. and Mr. Watt was arrested on Monday. Mr. Watt was immediately probed and accused.

The hearing was commenced on Wednesday morning, and lasted until the afternoon. The defense, when the magistrates in examining the witness decided that they were not competent to deal with the questions involved in the case, and sent the accused up for trial.

The circumstances briefly are that Watt & Watt have been the solicitors for the Wetaskiwin Undertaking Co. for the past two years and C. D. Smith, who represented the Attorney general's department, pointed out that the magistrates had no jurisdiction in the case, because a prosecution of this kind was the responsibility of the attorney general to commence.

Mr. Smith advised the defense to relinquish the books and papers of the company and to give a statement of the affairs of the company to Mr. Knox, as they claimed they were not legally responsible of their duties.

On July 12th, Mr. Watt was given a check in full account of a case of forged checks, which was dated July 15th. The check was deposited in the Imperial Bank on the 15th and was sent to the Merchants' Bank of Leduc in the usual course of business for collection. An understanding had been made between Mr. Watt and Mr. Smith as to the disposition of the money upon its arrival. The money was never received and the magistrates were not compelled to deal with the case, and it was remitted to a higher court.

We understand the case will come before Judge Taylor next week in Wetaskiwin.

RAILROAD STRIKE HAS BEEN AVOIDED

A huge strike including all the conductors and trainmen, of practically all of the eastern U.S.A., railroads has just been temporarily averted by intervention of the White House through the promise of the President Wilson and congressional leaders to make law the provisions of the Landis-Chayefsky bill, which had been voted by the Senate board of arbitration and conciliation appointed by the president with the consent of the senate.

NEED HARVESTERS

According to official figures received from the Alberta government by R.J. Pearce, manager of the Alberta grain market, it appears that the crop area for 1913 shows an increase of 430,432 acres with over 1,000,000 acre under spring wheat.

Crop conditions look more favorable in the province than they are expected. It is believed that the harvest will be ready. Generally speaking there is a marked improvement in cultivation and preparation of the soil. Applications are already being received from a large number of farmers who have turned to the getting of harvest help in good time. The hay harvest is also heavy and an abundance of feed is assured.

In view of the increasing acreage and heavy yield, it is at present difficult to estimate the number of harvesters required, but the number will exceed that of any previous year.

"Married to get over with her mother—but never have."

"Was free and I thought I could get along without a mate."

"Because I was so lazy to work." "Because Sarah told me that five

This trouble is the most dangerous of all the summer complaints of children. It begins with a profuse diarrhea, the stomach becomes irritated, and the fever soon reduced to great languor and prostration.

Cholera Infantum can be speedily cured by the use of DR. FOYLE'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY.

Miss Jones Pease, Harvard, N.Y., writes: "I recommend Dr. FOYLE'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY for Cholera Infantum. My little boy was so sick I could think he would live no longer if his mother did not know anyone. I gave him 'Dr. FOYLE'S' and the first dose helped him, and one bottle cured him. I recommended it to all the women children were sick, and cured them too."

DR. FOYLE'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY is a remedy that has been on the market for over sixty-five years and has been used in many families during these years, so you are not making any experiment when you buy it, but be sure and get "Dr. FOYLE'S" which ask for it as there are many imitations of this famous remedy on the market.

COUNTRY RUINED BY WILD HORSES

Ottawa, July 20.—Hon. Duncan

Marshall, minister of agriculture for Alberta, who arrived in the capital yesterday, has made a proposal to the Dominion government for the taking of some steps to put a stop to the depredations of wild horses in the Great Bear and Peace River districts, which has been the provinces main pioneering points for the past few years. It is contended that the wild stallions have made themselves the leaders of the new set tlers, having killed many of the settlers' horses, and have led, with many of the wild-domestic mares which have been imported at considerable cost, and which are one of the principal assets of the new settlers. Being the boundaries of the provinces, the boundaries of the wild horses have caused at great amount of damage in the eastern districts of British Columbia as the equine marauders, which have been imported at considerable cost, and which are one of the principal assets of the new settlers. DISAPPOINTMENT

HIS APPOINTMENT

July 27th, Ex. 5:14

Failure to respond promptly to God's call to step out at the head of the line and assume sole leadership in the service of the King led Moses having associated with him an older man, who was conveying God's word direct to Pharaoh and to the children of Israel.

Opportunity came to him with outstretched arms offering him a commission of the highest rank. As he waited for the answer he obeyed instinctively the secret desire that His people would respond to Moses' departure from Egypt and such a choice of life.

The letter was probably read at a special meeting of the elders called to consider the necessary steps to be taken in drawing up the petition.

Naturally they would turn to Moses.

He had no time to lose, so the form in which it should be cast.

Let us imagine that Moses has the foot and that he says:

"Gentlemen, we are face to face with a serious difficulty."

Court etiquette required that all petitioners be seen and heard before their faces before the king and remain in that position until they had gathered together the following words:

"Thou resemblest Ra! Then resemblest Ra in all thy doest, therefore the wishes of thine heart are always to be realized."

Those who had accomplished since they had risen as king of the world, and we hear nothing, our eyes see nothing, elsewhere that can rival them in beauty, let us gather together the following words:

"Thou art like Ra in all thy doest, therefore, thou art to be adored, and we will return to the city of the east until water will flow up at the word for thou art Ra incarnate, Khepera

the living image of the Father Tmu, lord of Heliopolis, the god who created all things, and who is the God of gods in thine heart, the wish of thine heart regires itself like that of Ptah when he creates his works. Since thou art eternal, everything acts according to thy design, and everything obeys the will of the king, our Master!" This was a great commission, all petitions of our people are oppressed, of which which is certain to result in the rejection of the petition.

Shall we sacrifice principle for the to me. He is going to set our people at liberty and to give us a new home.

He is going to bring me down to the bottom of the earth, but I will not let go against the business for a man to him, only I can do nothing until I hold the throne as ambassador of the King of Kings. Let us see what part of Goshen does he live?"

"This saith the Lord God of Israel:

"His name is Aaron Anram. Years ago I have a brother living there who nearly fifty years ago rode down to Goshen to see how people motion?" asks the chairman.

"Yes, more than a year ago he was born in the town of Ra in the city of the east, and he is the son of Moses gained more than be lost in the cordial fellowship of his new friends, brother and friends in the city of the east, and in calling upon the old king. With great dignity and deliberation and in laying before Aaron says "This saith the then their mission. They were deeply touched by the passages of God's that they may hold a feast unto me love and the news spread like wild fire through the length and breadth of the land. Who is the Lord? I should Goshen that had seen the sun rise High voice and let Israel go? I of His people, that He had heard the word, the Lord, neither will I take their cry, that He knows their sorrows Israel go."

that He had come down to deliver Moses may have said to himself,

"You will soon find out who the Lord is if you will not let Israel go."

And they said, "The God of the Hebrews hath met us, let us go, we pray thee, three days journey into the desert, and sacrifice unto the Lord, our God."

And the king of Egypt said to them,

"Wherefore on ye Moses and Aaron loose the people from their works?

Get ye unto your burdens."

The result of this refusal to the Israelites was that of keep disappointment bordering on despair. And Pharaoh commanded that they say to the Hebrews, "Ye shall not go to make brief. Let them go and gather for themselves."

Here was another disappointment, Moses who had been received most cordially when he appeared in Goshen full of his respect, now began to be shamed and rebuked.

"Before you came," they said, "we plodded along, bearing upon our wings as best we could. You raised our hopes only to dash them to the ground. There is a limit to human endurance."

We have reached the end of the story.

Moses was not prepared for this turn in affairs. Utterly disengaged he turned once more to God who affirmed His knowledge of their sufferings and commanded Moses to declare His determination to deliver them from bondage.

Calgary, July 18.—In an effort to encourage the packing industry of the west, and to centralize the business in Calgary, the municipality will probably purchase 60 acres of land adjoining the city limits and exploit a comprehensive scheme looking to the development of the meat packing industry. The city has an option on the land at $360,000. The idea originated with President Tregillus of the United Farmers of Alberta, and has been taken up with enthusiasm by the city council, and with the officials of the three railroads running into the city.

Sunday made the hottest of the year at Calgary and the mercury reached the high figure of 104 degrees. The heat was the greatest with the exception of Kamloops and Belford, the former making 96 and the latter 88. The warm spell was confined to the three western provinces for Manitoba kept pretty cool for the Dominion faint Brandon—Albertan.

The sanitary cry that winter twine will be seen has changed this season into a hint that it will be plentiful but dear on account of a monopoly on the raw material. There sometimes does seem ground for the former's complaint that, whatever experts may say, the demand for the product is still greater than the supply, and demand, he says, has just to take what he gets when he sells, and pay what is asked when he buys.

Calgary, July 20.—Saturday was the biggest day the Calgary public market has yet experienced. It is estimated that over 10,000 people passed through the building and made purchases. Ontario County Getting Rich Farmers From the U. S.

People of the West may boast of the army of settlers which is coming to their country, but the men in Canada, and of the large amount of capital which they are bringing into the Canadian West, if they do, the scope of the country, and the fact that there is perfectly good reason to boast just as loudly, for the same thing is happening right here and right now, and going on in the West, says The Globe.

Since the spring of the present year sixty families of the United States have settled in Ontario, mostly from Indiana and Illinois, and have moved into Essex county, where they have bought new farms, and are now settling down to become Canadian citizens. According to the Canadian Canadian Immigration office in Windsor, these sixty families have brought with them $100,000 in cash, and their total capital would amount to in the neighborhood of $500,000. Besides this, they have brought horses to the value of $10,000.

Most of these families are good, old-fashioned farmers' families, varying in number from three to eight. Many of them have wives, and have brought their own hired help, and accordingly have not to face the great problem of securing farm labor.

According to the Canadian Immigration office, the Essex family advertising the county extensively through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and therefore the campaign was started by them last year, when they brought over between forty and fifty families. This year they are to bring more extensive, and before the end of the summer, it is expected that the number of families will run up to 100.

It has been the modus operandi of these companies to buy an Essex farm of from 200 to 300 acres, set it immediately to work, put in the best of buildings, and then let it go.

Land where it has not been already underdrained and putting the buildings in good repair. They will then sell the farm at a price which the buyer from across the border to come and inspect the farm, and furnish him with all information as to what the cost of production would be.

FIFTY LIVES LOST IN FIRE

Binghamton, N.Y., July 22.—Fifty persons were killed in accidents to fast eatin'nts, and as many more injured a dozen of them mortally, in a fire which swept the four story factory building of the Binghamton Clothing company this afternoon. The victims were chiefly women and girls, easily identified by their short hair in private institutions are thirty injured. In the City hospital and the hospital of the New York Hospital, two more persons are known to have escaped, as by a miracle, from the building, which burst into flames like a tinder-box, and became a roaring furnace almost as hot as the sun.

About 125 persons were in the factory when the fire broke out. The number accounted for, or most of them, are believed to be still in the red-hot ruins of the structure.

Around the scene of the catastrophe great excitement and alarm. About 150 spectators, mostly men, who had been watching the rescue work in the glare of three big searchlights, many in the throng being restrained by the closely drawn police lines from rushing into the flames to find the bodies of relatives or friends.

Word reached the city on Monday last of one of the saddest drowning accidents of the year, when Will of Ferry Point lost his life while bathing in the Battle River. About one o'clock on Sunday, Will, with a companion, went swimming in the river, and it is supposed he took cramps and was unable to get out, as he was a very good swimmer. His companion gave the alarm, and after an hour's search the remains were recovered. He was a particular favorite with all his acquaintances, and was well known in the community.

The funeral, which took place at the Monroe cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, was one of the largest ever attended in the district. We join in extending the deepest sympathy to the heartbroken parents and relatives of the deceased.

Will was a cousin of L. V. Rose, of Wetaskiwin, who attended the funeral.

LAYING THE STEEL.

Railroad Builders Are Awaking Echoes

In Silent North

Twenty thousand men are at work on the new railroads grid of the coastwise section of the transcontinental. Grand Trunk Pacific takes the largest number of these, on construction work of its own, and the Canadian Northern, too, in Alberta, where soil that last year produced oats and potatoes, or has been untilled since Creation Day, is being thrown up in to the new rail lines that are eliciting promises.

It is going to be a busy summer in the railway camps of central Alberta. Some 15,000 men are to be employed in the central and northern parts of the provinces to be laid before the snow comes again, but the graders will cover a larger mileage this year than last. A lot of virgin soil will be shifted during the coming season. The net result of their labor will be seen in the flat-topped prairie, the farms and Indian roving grounds in a way that never happened before.

Now is the time, between the first projecting of the roads and the actual opening of the railroads, to interest the public in the aspect of western railroading best shown itself. Many prairie towns are familiar with the outfitting and departure of the northbound freight train in the direction and that. These interesting cavalcades are made up of men, beasts and implements that alike are built hard wear and hardy. They are not well known, well up to the aspect of city streets, but when they get into the open and swing their crooked way along the trail to the site of the first camp, then when they come from one camp to another, they seem very right and appropriate to be part and parcel of the country. In the end, the character of the road may be the chiefest necessary forerunner of the gay steam trains and fast express.

A construction camp is, in its earliest look, something like a fair or circus combined. Its canvas tents stand up strongly against the greens and blacks around them, and the general atmosphere of the camp is rather pleasant. There is nothing that stands out, nothing that is odd, nothing that is out of place, nothing that is ugly. The men are rough, but they are rough, too, to be sure, but the character of the country makes it possible to introduce a man of the world into the camp life, the grade, the plains or the mountains. The graders, who this summer will be working in the Rockies and the Canadian Rockies, and the men who follow them with the steel are a very mixed lot. They come from everywhere, and they have all kinds of stories to tell. A Oxford graduate frequently handles a shovel in line with an unlettered immigrant from mid-Europe, and the son of a skilled farmer takes his chance on the same grader. But work in the camp life, where nothing counts but work, social levels are soon struck. Nevertheless, the human interest and humor of the people in the camp life are significant, and one cannot altogether forget that the big noise that is being introduced into the new and silent scenes of the north is, in the last analysis, eloquent of man's energy and persistence.

Historic House Goes.

"Beverley House," Toronto, is to be torn down to make room for a modern residence. Work of demolition is to begin almost immediately, in a short time one of Toronto's noted landmarks will be no more. Since the original building was built in 1817, it has been gradually the home of the Robinson family, the first member of which to settle in Canada was Christopher Robinson, a United Empire Loyalist. Beverley House was the home of Sir John Robinson, a barrister, who became chief justice and a baronet. He had three sons, Sir Lukin Robinson, bart., Sir John Robinson, a barrister, and Sir George Robinson. The second son was mayor of Toronto, was elected to Parliament in 1858, and was president of the MacDonald-Cartier Conservative party. He occupied the house until the time of his death, and until a year or two ago the property was in the possession of his widow. From 1881 to 1901, Beverley House was the residence of Postmaster General Sir Alexander Macpherson, and from 1901 to 1905, residence of Postmaster General Sir George Thompson, Lord Sydenham, governor of Upper Canada.

Discovered Senator Cox.

Perhaps one of the most interesting incidents in the career of Senator Cox is the discovery of H. P. Dwight, operator of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co., that he discovered Senator George A. Cox. When he first came to Canada as a telegraph operator he went into the service of the Canadian National Telegraph Co., which at that time was an expert operator and is so today. Mr. Cox was long an agent of the telephone company.

His Seventy-Sixth Parade.

A feature of the Bradford Twelfth of July parade was the appearance of James Olive of Paris, aged 93, who marched for the seventy-sixth time. The man who in 1910 marched in the parade to become an expert operator and is so today. Mr. Cox was long an agent of the telephone company.

PUT WHERE IT BELONGS

Real estate speculation has received a hard jolt by the present financial stringency and it is to be hoped that it has received a permanent jolt. If all the money that had been spent in the west had been invested in productive enterprise there would be no money stringency now, and everybody would be a whole lot better off. This is the time to wait and somebody else to make a valuable fortune for you is bad economically. It is no wonder that the farmers and other producers of the country get sore when they see men who depend upon their tongue for a living rolling around in motor cars, when they themselves feel it difficult to make a decent living let alone own motor cars.

EXHAUSTION OR NON-UTILIZATION OF ONTARIO WOOD OUT-PLY

LIGHTS THROWN ON PINEY AND TRADE CONDITIONS BY NEW GOVERNMENT BULLETIN

Over 1200 wood-using industries in Ontario contributed the data for a bulletin on this industry, now being issued by the Forestry Branch, Ottawa. There are 12,000 kinds of wood now being used by these industries and the detailed information regarding the various uses to which such woods are put, should be of considerable value. One of the main items is shown in the manner of waste disposal, but also to the house holder by indicating what native woods are best fitted to replace the more expensive imported stoves for interior decoration, furniture and flooring.

The bulletin also shows incidentally

My appetite which was very poor, is now good again. I can eat anything without any disagreeable feelings. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone suffering from Indigestion."

As it happened, the wind was blowing toward the party from the direction of the settlement, and their horses, originally brought from the prairies, became frightened long before optical sense could distinguish it. Instead of heading direct for the settlement and thus endangering their delicate natal organs, the party decided to tack off and come up on one side of the settlement. A NEW FOREST RESERVE IN ALBERTA

BERTH

One of the principal items in the new amendment to the Forest Reserve and Parks Act passed on June 6th, 1913, was the creation of the Lesser Slave Lake Forest Reserve, an area of five thousand and twenty-three square miles. This Reserve lies about one hundred miles north-west of Edmonton and has a general elevation of from three to four thousand feet above the sea level, covering a mountainous area south of Lesser Slave Lake which forms the watershed of the tributaries of the Peace and Athabasca Rivers.

The purpose of these reservations is not to retard, but to further the proper development of the country, and to report the timber crop, short clearly the timber within the Reserve and the proposed addition, is non-agricultural. But outside these areas on the lower reaches of the Athabasca, Little Smoky and Lesser Slave Lakes, and on the headwaters of Lesser Slave Lake which are not reserved, are considerable areas of agricultural land. In a few years the prairie lands north west towards the Peace will also be filled with immigrants. At the same time, the entire Lesser Slave Lake will be almost entirely surrounded with farming communities. "This Reserve," says Mr. Cameron, "will, therefore, be the natural source of timber supply for these communities, and indeed, practically the only source of supply available."

TO ASK GOVERNMENT FOR THE LOAN OF $10,000,000 TO THE FARMERS

The loan of $10,000,000 by the Dominion government to the farmers and business interests of Alberta, as suggested by the Calgary New Telegram was the subject of serious consideration by the Farmers' Association at their Alberta's session. As a result of the discussion the organization endorsed the proposition and appointed a representative committee to interest various organizations, including the United Farmers of Alberta, and local bodies in the province in the fact that the money may be properly brought before the Borden government.

The money should be handed over to the farmers, through whom it would rapidly go into circulation and benefit the whole community, the business men and the rest in due course. This was the generally agreed opinion and one the majority of the world.

The matter of distribution was one of some difficulty and it was generally agreed that this question would be best left to the Farmers' Association. The scheme of lending out $10,000,000 on the face of it carried a great many difficulties which would be very hard to meet and there was no doubt that both as to the distribution of the money and the facilities for so doing be in touch with the various farmers there would be many things to be considered. While thinking etc., the grain growers and the fruit growers.

Further, this loan is felt by the business men of Calgary, should not be retained solely for the benefit of thought that there should be no unfairness in the matter, and, above all, farmers' committee in the course of its labor, making inquiries of the farmers' societies in the province of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and with the fruit growers in British Columbia to find out in conjunction with them the best way of getting the money to the farmers in a satisfactory way of carrying out the scheme if the government proves agreeable to making the grant for the purpose. The meeting was not largely attended, and while all those present favored the idea of having the money distributed through the various branches of agriculture, it was felt that it would be a very fine thing, there was some uncertainty as to how to proceed.

President Campbell introduced the matter, and said that while there might be some uncertainty as to the best way to which the money could be distributed, it was felt that the fact that it was needed in Alberta. Of course the matter of distribution was one of some difficulty and it was generally agreed that this question would require most careful handling. The impression was that the distribution difficulties which would be very hard to meet and there was no doubt that both as to the distribution of the money and the facilities for so doing there would be many things to be considered. While thinking etc., the grain growers and the fruit growers.

M. D. Geddes was of the opinion that the money would be a blessing to the province which words could hardly estimate, and at the same time said that property the money should be used for the benefit of the back bone of the west, and that they were the men most in need of the money. They could use it to the best advantage, and little would be lost to the country by making such loans. The money would immediately begin to circulate when the amount got into the hands of the people concerned, and that thought has no right in your mind. You may think you cannot stop it, but you can, as it is only a bad habit you have fallen into, and you must break it or it will break you. You must get rid of the bad habit in your mind, and the control of your own thoughts, and when it will have to fight, it will be the most glorious victory you will ever win.

E. L. Richardson was of the same opinion. He said that if the money went to the farmers it would be the best thing possible for everything in the west. For this reason he suggested that the secretary should communicate with the United Farmers of Alberta. The master should also be made a properly local master, and the various branches of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and fruit growers of British Columbia should be communicated with and consulted on the matter.

Then there arose some discussion as to the way in which the money could be best distributed. It was suggested that this could be most advantageously done through the agency of the various boards of trade all over the province and it was agreed that these should be communicated with also with a view to finding what could be done, and how the money could be distributed and used to the best advantage.

The following committee was appointed to take up the matter: W. H. Berkshin, D. G. Campbell, E. L. Richardson, W. L. Tregillus and M. D. Geddes. Mr. Richardson is the chairman, and the first meeting will be held on Monday. In the meantime it is requested that you say to it "Not at home" if that no time should be lost, and J. M. Froline, in the New York office, the secretary will communicate with server.

CONTROL YOUR THOUGHTS

Say that thought. It was in your mind all day yesterday, and it made you perfectly miserable. Over and over again you passed through all the unpleasant scenes, heard all the cruel words that were spoken, suffered agonies of pain, and the result was that you could not sleep, you could not eat, you could not work, you could not enjoy yourself for your work, and destroyed all the happiness out of your heart.

Are you going to continue it all day to-day, and by doing waste more of your life in the foolish thought that you can do nothing to help yourself because you have no right in your mind?

That thought has no right in your mind. You may think you cannot stop it, but you can, as it is only a bad habit you have fallen into,

and you must break it or it will break you.

You must get rid of the bad habit in your mind, and the control of your own thoughts, and when it will have to fight, it will be the most glorious victory you will ever win.

To be a slave to unpleasant thoughts is a world full of trouble and sometimes leads to insanity but to be able to think on any subject you please places your happiness in your own hands, and gives you a sense of power and independence which is not only delightful to realize, but which enables you to develop your natural talents and the best choice. When you bring this work never shut yourself up in a room alone to baffle or pray over your sorrow, but do those things which will make you forget it, live in the open air as much as possible, get acquainted with the birds, watch the clouds, the stars, the world around you, the trees and make companions of the wonderful works of the loving Father which will help you out of yourself into the broader and sweeter life which they live. But if you cannot do this, then go to a friend, and compel yourself to read a few lines or a few verses, visit a friend, do some work that demands close attention, study a picture, and whenever the hateful, tormenting thought presents itself, turn your back on it, and you will say to it "Not at home."

On Monday, the secretary will communicate with server.
